

People's Choice Awards

Last year, Display Week rolled out an exciting new show awards program that enabled attendees and exhibitors to vote for their favorite exhibits and products on the show floor. The new program was a big success and will be repeated for Display Week 2020 in San Francisco. Click here for a list of the past winners.

Once again, voting will take place through a survey in the Display Week mobile app in the following six categories:

Best New Display Technology (a panel, module, or finished product)

Best New Display Component (this might be a film, glass, touch element, or other component)

Best Technology Demonstration (the way the product or technology is shown on the floor)

Best Small Booth

Best Medium Booth

Best Large Booth

All exhibitors will be automatically entered into the “best booth” categories, but are responsible for nominating their own candidates for the best display technology, component, and demonstration categories prior to the show.

Note: It is not necessary to enter in each category, but you may only enter once in each category.

The deadline for exhibitors to self-nominate their candidates is May 31, 2020.
